The auspicious nature of this time in your life offers you a shift into higher dimensional connection through your soul, your body, your mind and your spirit. It is the light of Gaia crescendo into a higher octave internally within her heart chamber that offers you this potential journey of raising your vibration and stepping into a new reality – a dimensional shift in consciousness and energy.

For over a thousand years, souls have been waiting for this time dear one. It is not just the awakening that is occurring - it is the activation of the light within all beings on earth. For over one thousand years the awakening has been building. You are a part of this.

Each incarnation that you have experienced has assisted this, your incarnation now is auspicious. All of the light you have acknowledged inside, inside of yourself, inside of the earth has brought you - your soul to awaken to the closeness you hold with God dear one. This truth - that God is within you and all around you. This is the awakening to the light within.

This auspicious time opens a new cycle on earth – it is the cycle of the activation of the light within all. Those who are unawakened will be awakened now. Those who are awakened will be activated. Those who are ascended have activated the light within their brain, their bodies, their chakras and are already in the process of creating a new world for all beings. This new world is being created on the inner - the spiritual planes of light - seeding into every reality on the earth into the physical plane.

There are starseeds & lightseeds everywhere in every family, in every department of life on earth and in generations to come, these lightseeds & starseeds will have done their work beloved. You are a part of this journey.

You are either awakening to the light inside or you are fully guided by the light inside already. It is auspicious for every soul and spirit, this time, for the light inside of Mother Earth is to be at the highest frequency and this is the frequency of the full activation of the light of all beings. It is God's blessing, Mother Earth's blessings for all beings.

This is your time for you to be with the light inside of you and connect to the light inside of All That Is. We bless you. Give yourself this auspicious blessing.

As 2012, enters 2013 the crescendo will take place and the highest frequency of light will be available to you for your shift in consciousness and energy so you may stabilize into this new dimensional connection to a higher consciousness, higher light energy inside of you. This is the message of the Masters of Light to all of humanity. They are with you. Your own enlightened holy spirit, your Divine Presence is a master of light and is the guide for you evolution, your awakening, your activation, your illumination and your enlightenment.

Contemplate the light of God within each day. Transmit the light frequency from your heart into the field of life and say your prayers for all beings to enlighten with you dear one, and receive the light through this auspicious blessing each day until your shift has occurred and you experience the full stability of the new dimensional connection – the higher consciousness – fully activated and grounded in your being.

May you enjoy, may you bathe yourself, may you surrender to experience the Divine, that the light inside of you activates and awakens for all beings.

To be touched by God is the purpose of this auspicious blessing that Mother Earth is providing for you. As it God's will. Let God's will be done. God's will is now done. God's will is now done. Blessed Be. Blessed Be all Beings. Blessed be the Earth. Blessed be. Blessed Be. Blessed Be All Beings.

RECEIVE THE MASTER'S DIVINE BLESSING FOR YOUR LIFE PATH

The following is a transcript from a high frequency audio recording of Qala Sri'ama's 2012-13 to the world part 2. This message was released 12-12-12.

The greatest blessing dear one that can be given to you from God comes through your own heart through you simply connecting very deeply to the light within. Take your consciousness into this light inside in the base of your heart and in this moment, accept that God lives within your heart and every other heart of All That Is.

It is not a mystical force or power beyond you, it is a part of you. It is not an entity outside that one worships dear one. It is the holy omnipresence of All That Is that one may contact inside, for all lives within you. Your soul, your heart is a doorway to the infinite omnipresence of All That Is.

As you walk on your path in the physical realm, with your heart open, this light shining dear one, there is no entity outside, omnipresent I, watching over you choosing your fate. There is only the light inside of you connecting to all others and all of life, activating the creation of your reality.

Based on the light emanations you project beloved, you are a creator that lives in many dimensions of the light and the Divine nature, the oneness and Omnipresence of All That is, is a force inside of you that you may access to love, give, receive, know, feel, taste, smell, see, hear, sense, experience the divinity of life, the divinity in others and in yourself. Which is the exchange of the heart energy and the power, love and truth of the light within yourself.

This is the blessing you give to you own soul as you accept God within, to be comforted, nurtured, protected, loved forever more. There is only one path to this – to accept God within- that God lives with you dear one. This is your oneness with God, with love, light, truth, wisdom and is the blessing you give to yourself to activate the divinity of your life here- the flow of divine energy through the creation of your reality.

As we share this simple message with you, many come to be with me, councils of light, masters of the light, enlightened ones begin to focus upon us now to bring a blessing for you, for your path ahead, for your relationship with God through the light within your heart. It is their wish that this light spread'th through you, through every part of your body, through all of your energy to enlighten and illuminate the beauty of your soul here on earth.

To open the beautiful heart you are. To allow the full holy spirit to dwell in your body, the temple - for your mind to experience the deepest peace in life, oneness with God. It is their prayer. They say these prayers for you now, as many Masters of Light focus upon you with all of their love.

They shine their hearts towards you now and a great wave of blessing of love surrounds your being. They ask that you be comforted in the light of God with them.

They invite you to surrender to receiving love in the highest way again. To simply accept within that the nature of your reality is that your soul is a child of God, loved purely. That your relationship with your mother, your father, your children, your family, your friends carries but a small part of that love that God holds for you dear one. That which you may feel you have not received in this life is waiting for you.

The Masters of Light simply share that the door opens in every aspect of your life when you open the light inside of you and you no longer give any energy to fear that the Divine, that God, that others may not see, know, feel, accept your pure light - this pure light that you carry inside, that is your source.

They bring their gift to you now. If you so wish to receive the blessing of the Masters of Light for your life path ahead, they give you the gift of life - an activation of your heart energy - this light within you now, this beautiful heart you are. They begin to bless your heart through all dimensions filling your heart with the love and the light – the pure love and light.
